★ Very Important: “Explain Your Course”

The interviewer may suddenly ask:

“Can you tell me about your course?”

Talha can answer:

I am going to study an Undergraduate Diploma in Digital Marketing Level 5. It is a 12-month programme starting in November 2026. I expect to learn about digital marketing strategy, social media marketing, search engine optimization, content marketing, email marketing, online advertising and digital analytics. These areas will help me understand how businesses promote their products online, reach their target customers and measure the results of their marketing campaigns.

The 12-month duration, November 2026 start date and €4,000 fee are directly stated in the offer letter.

★ If asked: “Why is this course suitable for you?”

This course is suitable for me because I am interested in online business and modern marketing. Digital marketing is important for businesses today, and I want to develop practical knowledge of social media, SEO, content, online advertising and digital analytics.

★ If asked: “What will you learn from Social Media Marketing?”

I will learn how businesses can use social media to promote products, communicate with customers, create content and build their brand.

★ If asked: “What will you learn from SEO?”

I will learn how websites can improve their visibility in search engines and attract potential customers through organic search results.

★ If asked: “What will you learn from digital analytics?”

I will learn how to analyse digital marketing data and understand whether an online campaign is achieving its objectives.

★ If asked: “What is the difference between traditional and digital marketing?”

Traditional marketing uses channels such as television, newspapers and billboards, while digital marketing uses online channels such as websites, search engines, social media and email.

Interview tip: Talha should keep his answers short, natural and confident. Since the institute says the interview assesses his English proficiency and commitment to studying in Malta, he should focus on understanding the questions rather than memorising long answers.
